Biographical Sketch

Ken Bradley played varsity basketball and football for the University of Saskatchewan. He then became a physical education teacher and coach in Moose Jaw. After teaching for almost fifteen years, Bradley accepted the position of physical education consultant at the Moose Jaw Public School Board. He retired in June 1997 after a thirty year career in education. Since retiring, Bradley has had some success in seniors' golf competitions. In 2008, he competed in the Royal Canadian Golf Association's Senior Men's Amateur nation competition as part of the four-man Saskatchewan team. In 2012, Bradley published a book entitled Out of bounds: a century of golf in Moose Jaw about the history of golf in Moose Jaw.

Scope and Content

This collection reflects the historical research conducted by Ken Bradley in preparation for his book entitled Out of bounds: a century of golf in Moose Jaw. The research includes printouts and photocopies of newspaper articles, primarily from the Moose Jaw Time Herald, about golf in Moose Jaw from 1900-2008. It also includes summaries written by Bradley of golf happenings in the area.
